DDS initial allowance rates have varied from State to State; the rates for individual States have also varied over time. For example, note that Idaho has gone from having one of the lowest rates in 1980 to having a relatively high one in 2000. Montana’s rate has gone in the opposite direction.